Celebrating Pentecost

The church celebration that concludes the Easter season is Pentecost, which falls 50 days later.

It used to be a harvest festival for the Jewish community, but it became the date in which we remember how the gift of God's Holy Spirit enlivened the group of Jesus' disciples so that they boldly went forth to spread the good news of Christ's resurrection.

When we celebrate Pentecost on Sun., May 15, our Confirmation Class will be received as adult members of our church (see article below), and we will receive the Pentecost Offering, which helps the church encourage, develop, and support its young people, as well as address the needs of at-risk children—nationally and locally. Please give generously.

Everyone is invited to wear red or colorful clothes as we rejoice in the Spirit's energizing, fiery presence in our lives.

Welcoming our Confirmands

Confirmands have been working on their "Statements of Faith" with help from their sponsors.

On Pentecost Sunday, the seven youth of our Confirmation Class will join ELPC as adult members through Baptism and an Affirmation of Faith. They have participated in a year-long process of education, prayer, mentoring, and service together, and are answering God's call to fully engage in the life and ministries of our church.

The students in this year's Confirmation Class are Joshua Bellin, Phoebe Brown, Charlotte Bush, Isaac Degenholtz, Chloe Ferrante, Adylade Krimmel, and Ramsey Lewand.

Please hold the youth in prayer, and join us as we celebrate their gifts and witness their adult profession of faith during Sanctuary worship on Sun., May 15.

Pastoral Message

The Rev. Dr. Randall K. Bush, Pastor

Geography is no one's strong suit, so here's a brief refresher course. When we talk about Israel/Palestine during the time of Jesus, we invariably focus on the cities in Judea and Galilee, like Jerusalem and Nazareth. If you go west from those cities to the eastern shore of the Mediterranean Sea, you bump into other cities mentioned in the New Testament, like Gaza in the south or Tyre and Sidon in the north. What Americans tend to forget is that just north of Israel is the nation-state of Lebanon; and surrounding Lebanon, continuing up the Mediterranean coast, is the nation of Syria. Its capital city, Damascus, is only about 135 miles north of Jerusalem. (By way of comparison, it is 200 miles from Pittsburgh to Harrisburg.)

Some of the earliest Christians lived in Syria—and many still do. (About 10% of Syria is Christian, whether Protestant, Catholic, or Orthodox.) In Acts 9, we read how the apostle Paul had his great conversion experience on the road to Damascus. We know that Paul visited Christians there early in his ministry and again as part of his second missionary journey.

That is why when we hear about Syrian refugees, or about the destruction being caused there by ISIS and Russian forces and soldiers loyal to President Assad, we need to remember that a significant percentage of people being affected are Christians. The news reports should not be dismissed as being about poor unfortunate strangers, followers of Islam, possible terrorists that are fundamentally a risk to our Western way of life. Many of the people fleeing Syria or struggling to survive in that hostile land are followers of Christ, literally our sisters and brothers.

Something more sinister is also happening in that troubled region. There is a small town in the desert between Palmyra and Damascus, which houses a monastery associated with an ancient saint named St. Elian. Elian was a physician who was martyred in 284 CE by a Roman officer when he refused to renounce Christianity. A church was founded in his honor around 432 CE, decorated with frescos and artwork that is some of the oldest in the region. Or "was" some of the oldest in the region, because the ISIS troops destroyed the monastery last fall.

More tragic is that the annual feast for St. Elian was one that thousands of Christians and Sufi Muslims jointly celebrated, for both groups honored him as a holy man. By destroying the monastery, the militants targeted a location that had united Christian and Muslim communities for centuries.

The stories in the news are both geographical and religious. The people caught in places of war and bloodshed are frequently people of faith, and often people of our faith. It is not a question of hierarchies of value—that we should only care for those baptized in the faith we share. Rather we should not allow people to be stripped down into categories and labels (e.g., refugees, terrorists, foreigners) because in the eyes of God, they are always much more than that. Remembering how close today's violence is striking the land where Jesus, Mary and Paul walked is humbling and hopefully compelling enough to provoke us to action and prayer.

Register Now for VCS

ELPC's Vacation Church School will be held from Mon.–Fri., June 27–July 1, from 9 am–3 pm. Our theme will be Surprise! Stories of Discovering Jesus, published by Mennonite Media. Together, we will explore Bible stories that show us that Jesus shows up in surprising ways—as a young boy teaching in a temple; a miracle worker feeding thousands with a few loaves of bread and a couple fish; a risen Lord who taught disciples on the road. With each surprise, people discovered more about Jesus—and together, we will too!

Children, ages 4–grade 5 (completed), are invited to attend as campers. Registration forms for campers are available online and at our church. Spots are filling up fast, so register now!

Calling All Volunteers!

We still need youth and adult volunteers to share their time and talents as teachers, arts-and-crafts leaders, recreation leaders, snack leaders, musicians, shepherds, and assistants. If you're able to volunteer at least three hours of your time, please complete a registration form, which can be found online or at our church.

VCS Donations

ELPC offers VCS for free. This is made possible because of generous gifts from our congregation—those who are able to give the gift of time as volunteers and those who are able to offer the gift of donated supplies. We will be posting items that are needed on a donation board at the foot of the main stairwell in late May through the first Sunday of June. Please consider taking a tag and bringing the items by Sun., June 12.

Thank you in advance for your partnership in this important ministry!

Mission Matters

The Rev. Patrice Fowler-Searcy, Associate Pastor for Mission Ministries

Working with Our Neighbors

Join us from 9 am–3 pm, on Sat., May 7, for neighborhood mission opportunities with Open Hand Ministries and Garfield Community Farm. For more details, contact Emily Rosenthal at 412.963.0139 or Pastor Patrice at 412.441.3800 x30.

End-of-Life Issues in Pennsylvania: A Spiritual, Medical, or Legal Event?

In our lifetimes, many of us become the family member or friend with the responsibility to handle the affairs of a person who dies. Are you prepared?

The Health Ministry invites you to join Carolyn Russ, attorney-at-law, following Sanctuary worship on Sun., May 15, to learn about the tools that are available, your rights and expectations as a decision maker, and the paper work you will need. Having this knowledge now will provide you and your loved one or dear friend with the preparation time to have these difficult discussions that need to take place before a tragedy or a illness changes their life and yours. Lunch will be served.

What are You Doing this Summer?

by Wil Forrest, Coordinator of Young Adult and Outreach Programs

With so much happening throughout summer, now is a good time to look at your schedule and start thinking about how you will fit some service in between family vacations and working in your own yard. Here are just a sampling of many ways you can be a faithful servant this summer:

Witness to God's inclusive love at Circle of Faith on Sun., June 5, at 2 pm, and at PrideFest on Sun., June 12, at 12 pm.

Sweat as you and your church family helps our neighbors at workdays with Open Hand Ministries and Garfield Community Farm on the first Saturday of each month.

Volunteer to help at our Vacation Church School program, Mon.–Fri., June 27–July 1.

Celebrate a year of faithful service on Thurs., Aug. 18, at 6 pm, at the Summer Celebration of Service.

Contemporaries Second Floor Parlor

May 8: The Inauguration of Jesus' Ministry

At the beginning of his ministry, Jesus read Scripture and addressed the congregation in the synagogue of his home town of Nazareth. Find out what the fuss was all about.

May 15: Faith Formation in the Midst of a Consumerist Age

A consumerist lifestyle, based on "expect more, pay less," often conflicts with our Christian faith formation and mission. Scott Hagley, assistant professor of missiology at PTS, will help us discover and cultivate a more gracious, joyful alternative way of life.

May 22 | 29: The Beatitudes

In this two-week series, we will explore the Beatitudes with Middle East scholar and theologian Ken Bailey as our guide. What does it mean to be "blessed?" What is "righteousness?"

Journey with Scripture Second Floor Library

Facilitator: Jan Lyle Irvin

"The Lord is king! Clouds and thick darkness are all around him; righteousness and justice are the foundations of his throne"—Psalm 97:1–2. How is God so obscured yet so transparent? And how does the risen Lord assure the church of the continual presence and rule of this just God in a violent world? How do we gauge any leadership? Join us in May as we read Scripture and ponder such questions.

May 8: Acts 16:16–34; Psalm 97; John 17:20–26; Revelation 22:12–14, 16–17, 20–21; Led by Lora Bethea

May 15: Acts 2:1–21; Psalm 104:24–34, 35b; Romans 8:14–17; John 14:8–17, 25–27; Led by Jan Irvin

Mark Blank, our intern from PTS, will discuss his recent trip to Israel/Palestine, where he visited the Holy sites, met Palestinian Christians, and found hope for a just peace.

May 22: What is Protestant Fundamentalism?

Fundamentalism is a difficult term to define. Mark Blank will lead a discussion attempting to find a definition of fundamentalism, with an eye on the fascinating history that has shaped American Christianity.

May 29: Christianity in North Korea

We will hear two online talks from escapees from North Korea, about their lives there and their hopes for the future. We also will discuss Christianity in North Korea—to what extent they can practice their faith without being sent to jail.

Young Adults Pastor's Conference Room

Facilitator: Wil Forrest

May 15: Telling Our Stories

Come to the Waters Bible Study Second Floor Parlor
Mon., May 2 7 pm | Tues., May 3 10 am

Our Bible Study series will conclude this month as we look at the River of Life—Hope, with our Scripture focus on Revelation 21–22. In Revelation, we get a picture of the end time, with the fullest revelation of God and God’s creation. This becomes a cause of great hope. We learn that we live in between the revelation of Jesus Christ and this final revelation and that we are to witness to this as we live out our faith.

Childcare will be available upon request for the Monday evening study. A potluck lunch will follow the Tuesday morning study. Bring a snack or salad to share and your own table setting.

Please RSVP with what category of dish you will bring (salad, entree, side, or dessert) to Kelli Booher by email at kjbooher@gmail.com or text/call 405.501.0711.

Session News

The Session meeting on April 19 included the examination of incoming officers—people who were nominated by the congregation to fulfill the offices of elder and deacon—as well as those chosen to serve on the Nominating Committee and the Centennial Fund committee. This was a positive experience, especially given the presence of four young people who were elected to serve as youth elders and deacons, and the chance to meet others who are accepting ordained office at ELPC for the first time.

Based on a recommendation from the Renovations Committee, the Session meeting originally scheduled for April 26 was moved to Tues., May 17. At that time, the architects will present the Design Development report related to the renovation project scope, budget, and timetable. Preliminary materials regarding this report will be shared with the Session at their special meeting on Tues., May 10, at which time they also will be examining this year's class of Confirmation class.
